

1 Bout duration distributions in mammals

This project ties together results from behavioural classifiers built using hyenas, meerkats, and eventually coatis. Here, I aim to find bout duration distributions for all classified behaviours for each individual of each species. This project stems from the serendipitous